Northeastern University Songs

Alma Mater

Music by Louis J. Bertolami, '60

Lyrics by Joseph Spear

Oh, Alma Mater, here we throng
And sing your praises strong.

Your children gather far and near
And seek your blessings dear.

Fair memories we cherish now
And will forever more.

Come, let us raise our voices strong.
Northeastern, we adore.

All Hail, Northeastern

Music and Lyrics by C. A. Pethybridge, '32

All hail, Northeastern, We sing in jubilee.

All hail, Northeastern, March proudly, ever free;

All hail, Northeastern, We give salute to thee;

Through the years, We ever will acclaim

Thy glorious destiny.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Information about the University's academic policies, including what is expected of students and how progress toward graduation is measured, can be found in the Catalog and online at catalog.northeastern.edu.

APEALS POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Undergraduate Student Academic Appeals Procedures

It is the policy of the University that all students shall be treated fairly in evaluations made of their academic performance, standing, and progress. The University presumes that academic judgments by its faculty are fair, consistent, and objective. Students must understand that the substitution of a different academic judgment for that of the original evaluator is a serious intrusion upon teaching prerogatives. Nonetheless, the University believes it is essential to provide an appeals mechanism to students who believe that they were erroneously, capriciously, or otherwise unfairly treated in an academic or cooperative education determination. This includes claims of misinterpretation or inequitable application of any academic provision of the University Catalog, Undergraduate Student Handbook, Faculty Handbook, or Cooperative Education Handbook.

The steps below are for academic appeals. In the academic appeals procedures described herein, "dean" refers to the dean of the appropriate college or a designee. If a student feels that they have been the victim of harassment or of discrimination prohibited by University policy, they should consult with the Office of University Equity and Compliance (OUEC) as soon as they become aware of alleged prohibited harassment or discrimination. A student is not required to wait until a term grade or determination is received before seeking advice or redress. If the OUEC is advised of such alleged prohibited conduct as part of an academic appeal (see below), the appeal shall be pursued and investigated through the OUEC first. In such cases, the student should submit the appeal to the appropriate dean(s) described in Step 2, with a copy also given to the OUEC. Following a resolution of the harassment/discrimination issues, any remaining academic issues will be addressed, at the request of the student, according to the academic appeals procedures.

Though students are always entitled to seek the advice of legal counsel, a student's lawyer cannot be present in the informal or formal academic appeal procedures. A student may consult with the vice provost for curriculum and programs, or the vice provost for graduate programs and policies or the senior vice chancellor for student life or their designees at any point in these procedures for advice or assistance. University officials may take whatever steps they deem reasonably appropriate to achieve resolution of the problem at any stage of these procedures.

Step 1: Discuss Concerns with Instructor and/or Unit Head

In most cases, students should first discuss their concerns with the faculty member who taught the course to see if it is possible to reach agreement on the issue(s). If the student is not satisfied with the outcome of this discussion, or if the student is not comfortable discussing the issue with the instructor, the student should request a meeting with the department chair, or a person named by the chair, to attempt a department-level resolution. If these attempts to informally resolve the issue fail, the student can enter the formal procedure at the college level as follows. Note that this step should occur as soon as possible after the academic determination given the time frame for appeal statement submission described in Step 2.

Step 2: Prepare an Appeal Statement

A student appeals an academic determination by submitting a written statement (the "Statement"). The Statement shall include when the problem occurred, who made the disputed determination, the nature of the determination, and what resolution the student is requesting. All relevant supporting materials should be attached to the Statement. The statement should be submitted no later than 28 calendar days from the day when the academic determination is made available to the student. If the appeal concerns academic probation, it is submitted to the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled. If the appeal concerns a grade or course evaluation, it is submitted to the dean of the college in which the course was given. If a student wishes to dispute a grade in their final term, this must be done within 28 calendar days of degree conferral date.

Step 3: Dean's-Level Resolution

The dean shall respond to the student in writing, including specific instructions for the student to seek an informal resolution to the matter, unless such a course of action, as outlined by the student in their Statement, is demonstrably futile. A copy of this response shall be sent to the department chairperson or equivalent supervisor of the appropriate unit. If the student has failed to achieve relief through an informal resolution, the dean shall discuss the matter with the department chairperson or equivalent supervisor and, if applicable, the dean of the college in which the faculty member involved in the matter serves, who shall attempt to effect an informal resolution. In this case the student shall also have the right to discuss the matter with the chairperson, or equivalent supervisor, in which department the faculty member involved in the matter serves.

If the appeal involves allegations of prohibited harassment or discrimination, the dean shall consult with the OUEC before responding and shall, as part of this response, explain the role that the OUEC will play in Steps 4 and 5 of this procedure.

Step 4: College-Level Appeal

If the student is not satisfied with the disposition of the matter at Step 3, they may proceed with the appeal through their college's established academic appeals procedure. The dean or the academic standing committee, as applicable, must provide the student and the involved faculty member with a written report of their/its finding(s) and decision.

- This step involves a review by a college academic standing committee making the recommendation to the dean. The student may obtain a copy of the operating rules of the academic standing committee from the dean of the college involved.
- In appeals involving allegations of prohibited harassment or discrimination, the dean or academic standing committee shall receive a report of the findings of the investigation of the OUEC. The dean or committee shall be without authority to reverse or modify the OUEC finding(s) or resolution, and instead shall work to resolve the remaining academic appeal issue(s).

Step 5: University-Level Appeal

If the student is not satisfied with the college's disposition of the matter, or if the appeal is not resolved within 35 calendar days after having been submitted to the dean pursuant to Step 2, they may appeal the matter to the university level. The student shall submit a request in writing, within 10 calendar days of the finding of the college in Step 4, to the vice provost for curriculum and programs, that the university convene an academic appeals resolution committee to review the issue.

1. The academic appeals resolution committee includes:

- The vice provost for curriculum and programs, or a designee,
- A faculty member (not involved in this dispute) appointed by the dean or the dean's designee from the student's major college(s), department(s), or area(s) of specialization,
- Two faculty members appointed by the Faculty Senate Agenda Committee (if the appeal is based on a cooperative education determination, one of the faculty members shall be a member of the cooperative education faculty, but not from the student's area of study), and
- If the appeal had at any point involved a matter of prohibited harassment or discrimination, the committee shall include a representative of the OUEC, who shall be a non-voting member. The chairperson shall be elected from among the committee's three faculty members.

2. Preliminary Matters

If the academic appeals resolution committee determines, by a majority vote, that the appeal is patently without substance or merit, it may dismiss the appeal.

3. Investigation

The academic appeals resolution committee shall conduct a prompt investigation. This investigation may include studying the relevant documents, interviewing the parties involved, and taking any other action it deems appropriate. If the committee chooses to interview the student or the involved faculty member they both shall have the right to appear and testify separately and privately before the committee. The student shall have the right to have an advocate from the University community present during their testimony. At no time shall the committee be bound by rules of evidence but shall at all times conduct itself in a manner that is not arbitrary or capricious.

4. Authority to Act

The academic appeals resolution committee has been designated as the final authority on these matters. At the conclusion of its investigation, the academic appeals resolution committee shall by majority vote resolve the issue(s) by either upholding the finding of the college, in which case no further appeal is available, or granting such relief to the student as the academic appeals resolution committee deems appropriate.

- The academic appeals resolution committee may not determine a resolution that contradicts the prior findings or actions of the OUEC.
- In the event of a tie vote, the action of the college academic standing committee shall be considered upheld.

5. Report

All direct parties to the appeal including, but not limited to, the student, the involved faculty member, the faculty senate agenda committee, the vice provost for curriculum and programs, or the vice provost for graduate programs and policies, the senior vice chancellor for student life, the dean(s), and the registrar shall be promptly informed in writing of the decisions and actions taken during this academic appeals procedure.

6. Action

The dean(s) or their designee(s) in the involved college(s) shall take whatever action is necessary to implement the resolution of the academic appeals resolution committee. This includes, where applicable, reporting the change of grade to the registrar.

¹Northeastern considers and assumes any communications sent to a student's official Northeastern e-mail account to be received by the student.

7. Appeal

Once adjudicated, the matter is considered closed, and no further appeal can be instituted by the student or the involved faculty member with respect to the issue(s) raised at any level of the formal academic appeals procedure.

HONOR CODE

On my honor, I pledge to uphold the values of honesty, integrity, and respect that are expected of me as a Northeastern student.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

<https://osccr.sites.northeastern.edu/>

Adopted November 12, 1971; last revised in July 2023.

The purpose of the Code of Student Conduct (the Code) is to set forth the University's expectations of behavior that promote the safety and welfare of the Northeastern University community. The University seeks to provide a supportive environment that is conducive to learning, the pursuit of truth, the exchange of knowledge, the intellectual development of students, and the general good of society. In those instances where violations of the behavioral expectations occur, Northeastern University has developed policies and procedures to protect the interests of members of the University community, individually and collectively. The Code has been developed with the assistance of students, faculty, and staff of the University.

Applicability of the Code On and Off Campus/ Jurisdiction of the Code

The Code applies both on and off campus, to all Northeastern University students, at all levels of study, in all colleges and programs locally or abroad, on-ground or online, as well as all student groups and organizations. The University establishes guidelines for the behavior of its students to promote student conduct that does not adversely affect the educational mission of the University, members of the University community, its relationship with the surrounding community, sister institutions, or co-op partners. Student behavior occurring off campus that allegedly violates the Code, University policy, local, state, federal, or host country laws, and that could negatively affect the educational mission of the University or its relationship with the surrounding community may subject students to discipline as noted in the Code.

Violations of the Code are handled and/or overseen by the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution (OSCCR). As the conduct process is an educational process and not a legal or criminal one, the formal legal rules of evidence do not apply to the Code and its procedures. The Code states all rights applicable to the conduct process. Students may not access documents not included in their case packet, demand access to individuals, or compel witnesses to participate in the conduct process. For information regarding Title IX, sexual violence, and related rights and procedures, please refer to the University's Policy on Sexual and Gender Based Harassment and Title IX, which governs the investigation, adjudication, appeal, and other elements of Title IX Prohibited Offenses.

The Code also applies to all accepted and pre-matriculated students. The University reserves the right to adjudicate an accepted student who allegedly engages in prohibited conduct prior to matriculation (e. g., at the Northeastern University New Student Orientation programs, during Move-In, or prior to the official start of the semester) through the conduct process.

When a student withdraws, takes a leave of absence, or becomes inactive from the University after allegedly engaging in conduct that may violate any of the University's policies, rules, regulations, or standards of conduct, but before the alleged violation has been adjudicated through the conduct process, a hold will be placed on the student's record and the student will be banned from campus. The hold will prevent a student from re-enrolling at the University until the alleged violations have been resolved.

General Expectations

As citizens and as members of an academic community, students enjoy the same basic privileges and are bound by the same responsibilities as all citizens. Presence on campus and/or general student status does not shield students from the general law. Northeastern University assumes that all students will abide by the policies, rules, and regulations of the University, and by state, local, federal, and host country laws. The University reserves the right to inform the police or other appropriate authorities when student behavior appears to violate laws.

It is recognized that all members of an academic community, individually and collectively, have a right to express their views publicly on any issue; however, the University insists that all such expressions be peaceful and orderly, conducted in a manner consistent with the Code and University policies, and in such a way that University business and respectful academic discourse are not unduly disrupted. Moreover, students must clearly indicate that they are speaking as individuals and not for or on behalf of the University community.

Students are expected to display proper respect for the rights and privileges of other members of the University community and their guests. The atmosphere in University facilities, online, and at University events must be free from undue disruption. Furthermore, students must follow the reasonable directions of University personnel. Students are expected to be honest and forthright in their dealings with the University. Falsification, distortion, or misrepresentation of information to the University or University officials could result in being charged with a violation of the Northeastern University Code of Student Conduct.

Students are expected to engage directly with OSCCR regarding any alleged violations of the Code. While students are free to consult with advocates and third parties, such third parties are not permitted to communicate on behalf of students regarding alleged Code violations. Additionally, recordings of any kind are not permitted in OSCCR, except as permitted by the Code or with express permission of OSCCR staff.

Student Expectations

Each Northeastern Student can expect:

- 1. Written notification of alleged Code of Student Conduct or University policy violations within a reasonable period of time from OSCCR's receipt of the complaint or incident report pertinent to those allegations. This notification will state the role of the involved student, such as charged student, victim, etc., date, time, and place of the administrative hearing or pre-hearing meeting, in the case of a Student Conduct Board hearing. The date, place of incident, and the complainant and/or reporting party will also be included.
- 2. The opportunity to request to reschedule a hearing date up to one (1) business day prior to the hearing, due to academic or other reasonable conflicts. Requests may be granted at the discretion of OSCCR.
- 3. To request that a hearing be suspended after the presentation of information for a brief and agreed-upon period of time.
- 4. The option to coordinate with the Disability Resource Center to receive any relevant accommodations for the hearing process.
- 5. The option to request OSCCR to provide speech translation services during the hearing process.
- 6. The hearing may proceed without the student's presence, consistent with the Code.
- 7. OSCCR to make all reasonable efforts to issue the decision letter within 10-15 business days after the conclusion of the hearings pertinent to the case.
- 8. The option to choose a Hearing Advisor, as outlined within the Structure and Procedure section of the Code, to serve as a guide throughout the Student Conduct hearing process..
- 9. The option to file an appeal within five (5) business days. Further information regarding appeals is outlined within the Procedures for Student Appeals section of the Code.

In cases where a Student Conduct Board hearing is scheduled, the following procedural rights also apply, as outlined in the Code of Student Conduct:

- 1. To review written information received by OSCCR that is pertinent to the case, a minimum of one (1) business day prior to the designated Student Conduct Board hearing date, and to address inferences that might be drawn from such statements during the Student Conduct Board hearing.
- 2. To a hearing before a panel composed of three or five Student Conduct Board members or, in the discretion of the Director of OSCCR or designee, three members of the OSCCR staff.
- 3. To request the removal of any number of names from the list of prospective Conduct Board members, with reasonable notification and explanation.
- 4. To question witnesses, to produce witnesses on the student's own behalf, and to present substantiating information and written personal statements on the student's own behalf. Witnesses are individuals who were present for the incident in question and/or have information relevant to the incident.

Each Northeastern student has the responsibility:

- 1. To review and abide by the University's Code of Student Conduct and University policies and procedures both academic and otherwise.
- 2. To monitor their University e-mail address† and respond to any Northeastern University notifications sent directly to the individual student.
- 3. To maintain their local address information and update it at the beginning of each semester when they are an active student.
- 4. To represent the University appropriately, both on and off campus.
- 5. To respect the differences of individuals and treat others in a civil and respectful manner.
- 6. To carry their University ID with them at all times and present it to officials when requested.
- 7. To honor their fiscal responsibilities to the University.

†Northeastern considers and assumes any communications sent to a student's official Northeastern e-mail account to be received by the student.

Decision-Making Authority

- 1. The Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life is responsible for the overall administration of the Code, as well as the Student Conduct Process, as it applies to individuals and student groups. Under the oversight of the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life, the Director of OSCCR has been charged with the day-to-day responsibility for administering the Code of Student Conduct and the Student Conduct Process.

2. All decisions made by the Student Conduct Board, Hearing Administrator, Appeals Board, and/or Fraternity and Sorority Life (FSL) Standards Boards are subject to final approval and modification by the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life, or designee.
3. The Student Conduct Board and designated Hearing Administrators are authorized to take official disciplinary actions in accordance with the policies, regulations, and sanctions contained in the Code and other policies and regulations of the University.
4. The policies and procedures outlined in the Northeastern University Code of Student Conduct will at all times govern the adjudication of matters relating to the Code.

Structure and Procedure of the Student Conduct Process

The Student Conduct Process begins when a report alleging a violation of University policy is received by OSCCR, Residential Life, Global Experience Office, or the Center for Student Involvement. For information regarding Title IX, sexual violence, and related rights and procedures, please refer to the University’s Policy on Sexual and Gender Based Harassment and Title IX (available at <https://policies.northeastern.edu/policy104/>), which governs the investigation, adjudication, appeal, and other elements of Title IX Prohibited offenses. Notwithstanding the procedures established in the Code, the University reserves the right to act in a manner it deems necessary or appropriate to address alleged Code violations and promote the safety and well-being of the campus community, including but not limited to altering specific elements and procedures within the Code as necessary to achieve this goal .

Reports of Title IX Prohibited Offenses (sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, intimate partner violence, dating violence, stalking, or retaliation) involving students are addressed by the University’s Policy on Sexual and Gender Based Harassment and Title IX and separate procedures referenced in that policy, which outline the investigation and resolution of claims of Prohibited Offenses. Reports of Prohibited Offenses can be submitted directly to the Title IX Coordinator and the Office for University Equity and Compliance (OUEC) by completing the form available at: Reporting to OUEC or through any of the contact options listed below. OUEC’s policy, as well as other helpful information, can be found at <https://www.northeastern.edu/ouec/>.

Filing a Report

Incident Reports can be submitted by clicking on the “Reporting an Incident” link found online at <https://osccr.sites.northeastern.edu/report-an-incident>.

Any academic or administrative official, University staff member, faculty member, law enforcement agency, member of the community, or student may file a complaint involving any student or student organization. The complaint should include the following information, if available:

1. Name(s) of the student or student organization alleged to have violated the Code and/ or University policy.
2. Description of the incident.
3. Date of the incident.
4. Names and contact information of witnesses.
5. Names and contact information of those filing the report.

In most instances, the person who submits a report will serve as the complainant should the report result in resolution through a Student Conduct Board hearing.

The Role of the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution

The role of OSCCR is to review all reports it receives to determine if a violation of University policy allegedly occurred. If it is determined that an alleged violation occurred, OSCCR will oversee or directly resolve complaints of this alleged violation; OSCCR does not represent either party. From time to time, OSCCR may conduct or participate in an investigation to gather information about the alleged violation(s).

Reviewing the Report and Determining Hearing Type

The Director of OSCCR, or designee, reviews the report to determine if a violation of University policy allegedly occurred. The severity of the alleged violation is also considered, as this determines the type of hearing that generally will be used to resolve the complaint/ case. In most cases, off-campus legal proceedings will not be grounds for delay. OSCCR will determine in each case the appropriate hearing type to resolve charges. However, if either party has concerns about this, the party should communicate such concerns to the Hearing Administrator. OSCCR retains the right to determine when and in what format any alleged Code violations are heard through Administrative Hearing or Student Conduct Board, as well as the timing of such hearing.

- Administrative Hearing (AH): When the severity of the alleged violation(s) could result in sanctions of Written Warning, Disciplinary Probation, or Deferred Suspension, involved students will receive a hearing notice requesting their attendance at an administrative hearing.
- Student Conduct Board (SCB): When the severity of the alleged violation(s) could result in sanctions of Suspension or Expulsion, or if the facts of the incident are so complex that an AH is not appropriate, involved students will receive a hearing notice requesting their attendance at a pre-hearing, which precedes an SCB Hearing.

▪ End-of-Term Hearings:

Incidents that occur and/or matters that are being scheduled to be heard during the last two weeks of classes, or finals, may be resolved by one of the following End-of-Term Hearing processes:

1.SCB Level: Incidents that may result in Suspension or Expulsion, or if the facts of the incident are so complex that an AH is not appropriate, may be resolved by an Administrative Hearing held prior to the end of the term, or a SCB hearing for the following term.

2.Administrative Level: Incidents that will not result in Suspension or Expulsion may be resolved by an AH held prior to the end of the term, or an AH held immediately following the end of the term.

When distance precludes a student from having a face-to-face SCB Hearing or Administrative Hearing with a member of OSCCR, the case may be resolved via a video conference or phone hearing.

Please Note: OSCCR will take into account the severity of the incident when determining the most appropriate method of resolving end-of-term cases.

▪ Alternate Resolution: The OSCCR reserves the right to determine if the incident can be resolved by alternative means (e. g. mediation, etc.). All parties involved must agree to this, as the outcome of this alternate resolution is final.

PLEASE NOTE: The University reserves the right to use an Administrative Hearing to expediently resolve cases where the University determines it is appropriate to do so .

Determining Responsibility: In all hearings, the Hearing Administrator or Board will use the “preponderance of evidence” standard, also known as “more likely than not” standard, to determine if a violation of University policy occurred.

Hearing Advisors

Students participating in the student conduct process may choose a member of the University community to serve as a Hearing Advisor that has been trained by OSCCR. They will receive a list of members from the University community who have volunteered to serve as a Hearing Advisor and been trained in the conduct process. For a full list of current Hearing Advisors, visit <https://osccr.sites.northeastern.edu/hearing-advisors/>. Staff or faculty who are hired as a student’s legal counsel outside the conduct process may not act as a student’s Hearing Advisor, except in cases being heard under the University’s Policy on Sexual and Gender-Based Harassment and Title IX. Students who wish to have a Hearing Advisor present with them during meetings should communicate to OSCCR availability that is inclusive of the Hearing Advisor’s schedule. Appointments will not be rescheduled solely due to a Hearing Advisor’s inability to attend.

The role of the Hearing Advisor includes:

- a. Assisting the student in understanding how the hearing will proceed.
- b. Assisting the student with understanding the resolution process.
- c. Attending the Hearing (Administrative, Student Conduct Board, Admitted Responsibility Hearing), if the student prefers and selects a time within the Hearing Advisor's availability.
- d. Providing emotional support before, during, and after a hearing.
- e. At no time is the Hearing Advisor permitted to address the Board or Hearing Administrator directly or communicate on behalf of the student.

Description of Administrative Hearings

When the severity of the alleged violation(s) could result in sanctions of Written Warning, Disciplinary Probation, or Deferred Suspension, involved students will receive a hearing notice requesting their attendance at an AH.

Notification: The administrative hearing notice will be sent to students via their University email account. This notice will provide them with the date and location of the incident, the complainant and/or reporting party, the alleged violation(s), and the date, time, and location of the hearing.

The Hearing: An AH is a one-on-one meeting between the student and Hearing Administrator to discuss the alleged violation(s). Third parties, including but not limited to witnesses, lawyers, parents, guardians, and friends, are not permitted to attend an administrative hearing. Hearing Advisors may attend at the request of the student. During the hearing, the student provides their account of the incident, the Hearing Administrator presents the student with the report and any available documentation and asks questions to clarify or identify missing information. In addition, the student can present written documentation, including witness statements, at the Administrative Hearing for the Hearing Administrator's review. After the presentation of information, the student may suspend the administrative hearing for a brief and agreed-upon amount of time for the option to prepare a response. After the information has been gathered, and the hearing concludes, the Hearing Administrator will review the information to determine if a violation of University policy occurred based on a preponderance of the evidence. If the Hearing Administrator determines that a student violated University policy, the student will be found responsible, and sanctions will be imposed.

Failure to Appear: If a student fails to appear for the scheduled meeting, the Hearing Administrator has the option to a) dismiss the charges, b) set a new hearing date, or c) make a decision and impose sanctions, if necessary, based on the information available.

The Decision Letter: Charged students and any relevant parties will receive a decision letter via their University email account that includes the rationale for the finding(s), sanctions (if applicable), and information on the appeal process (if applicable). Unless otherwise noted in a student's records, the University reserves the right to notify parents where permitted by the University's Policy on Student Rights Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and applicable law.

Description of Student Conduct Board Hearings

When the severity of the alleged violation(s) could result in sanctions of Suspension or Expulsion, or if the facts of the incident are so complex that an AH is not appropriate, involved students will receive a hearing notice requesting their attendance at a pre-hearing, which precedes an SCB hearing. In a SCB hearing, the complainant and charged student come before a panel of three or five trained SCB members to provide their account of the incident, answer questions, and provide any information relevant to their case.

Notification: A pre-hearing meeting notice is sent to the student at their University email account. This notice will provide them with the date and location of the incident, the complainant and/or reporting party, the alleged violation(s), and the date, time, and location of the pre-hearing meeting.

The Pre-Hearing: The pre-hearing meeting is a one-on-one meeting between the student and Hearing Administrator to:

- Review the incident and written documentation that forms the basis of the complaint,
- Explain the charges filed against the student, and
- Review the Student Conduct Board hearing process and its possible outcomes.

In addition, students will have the option to review a list of current SCB members and request the elimination of an unlimited number of potential SCB members from the hearing. An explanation for this request must be supplied by the student and will be reviewed by the Hearing Administrator, who has discretion to resolve the request based on relevant considerations such as the circumstances of the request and the interests of fairness and efficiency.

Third parties, including but not limited to witnesses, lawyers, parents, guardians, and friends, are not permitted to attend the pre-hearing meeting. Hearing Advisors may attend at the request of the student.

During the pre-hearing meeting, the charged student can either accept responsibility or contest responsibility for the charges. Upon request, a charged student can delay this decision for no more than two (2) business days after the pre-hearing meeting. Students should note that accepting or contesting responsibility does not necessarily lessen or increase the sanctions that could be imposed.

a. Accept Responsibility: Students who accept responsibility for all charges proceed to an admitted responsibility meeting, scheduled for a later date. During the admitted responsibility meeting, the Hearing Administrator presents the case to at least two members of the SCB who will ask questions to determine the most appropriate sanctions. The student may provide a verbal statement as well as additional written documentation to the Board.

b. Contest Responsibility: Students who contest responsibility for at least one of the charges proceed to an SCB Hearing, scheduled for a later date. Students will have an opportunity to clarify which charges they are contesting or accepting during the introductory statements of the hearing.

OSCCR reserves the right to refer all students from the same incident to a SCB Hearing for a resolution, regardless of an individual student's preference regarding acceptance or contesting of responsibility.

Preparing for the Student Conduct Board Hearing

Attendance at hearings is limited to parties involved and University officials as deemed necessary by the Board and/or by OSCCR.

Members of the Northeastern University Police Department or other law enforcement agencies may be present at hearings. Attorneys, parents, or guardians are not permitted in SCB Hearings unless given express permission by OSCCR. Hearing Advisors may attend at the request of the student.

Written Documentation: All parties involved have the opportunity to submit written documentation for the SCB to review, no later than two (2) business days prior to the hearing.

Witnesses: Parties who have direct information regarding the incident may be presented by the complainant or the charged student, provided that a witness list is submitted to OSCCR two (2) business days prior to the hearing. OSCCR staff may issue a written request requiring the appearance of an individual before the Student Conduct Board if it is determined that the person's appearance is necessary in providing information for the Board to make a decision regarding a student's case.

Failure to Appear: If the complainant, charged student, or witness(es) fail to appear at the scheduled hearing, the SCB or Hearing Administrator may: a) dismiss the action, b) set a new hearing date, or c) continue the hearing without that party present, and determine the finding and impose sanctions, if appropriate, based on available information.

Information Regarding the Student Conduct Board Hearing

1. The SCB consists of three or five students representing undergraduate, graduate, online, law, and professional studies students. In cases involving graduate and professional studies students, a simple majority of the Board members will be graduate and/or professional studies students. OGC had suggested slightly different language here: "Where deemed appropriate in the discretion of the Director of OSCCR or designee, an SCB Hearing may instead proceed before a panel composed of three members of the OSCCR staff.

2. The chairperson will be a student and voting member of the SCB whose responsibilities during the hearing will be to act as presiding officer at hearings and in all voting procedures.
3. A Hearing Administrator from OSCCR will be present during the hearing and all deliberations to provide information on applicable University policy and procedures. The Hearing Administrator does not vote or represent either party. SCB Hearings are audio- or video recorded for the purpose of appeals only. Parties to appeals may request to listen to the recording of the hearing in the OSCCR. Recordings are not to be removed from the OSCCR. Recordings are destroyed upon completion of the appeal process. Recordings do not become part of any student's record, or any conduct file maintained by OSCCR.

5. All records of a case will be treated as confidential, and disclosed only to the extent permitted under applicable law and University policy.
6. All decisions made by the SCB are subject to final approval or modification by the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life, or designee.
7. The Director of OSCCR, or designee, reserves the right to alter the composition of a Student Conduct Board by convening three members of OSCCR staff to hear the case collectively in lieu of a standard Student Conduct Board hearing.

The letter will include the rationale for the finding(s), sanction(s) (if applicable), and information on the appeal process (if applicable). OSCCR shall make reasonable efforts to issue the decision letter within 10-15 business days. In certain circumstances, other parties or members of the University community may also be informed of the decision to the extent permitted by law and University policy. Unless otherwise noted, the University reserves the right to notify parents of the outcome of cases where permitted by the University's Policy on Student Rights Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and applicable law.

Procedures for Student Appeals

Students have five (5) business days from the date of their decision letter to appeal the decision of either the Hearing Administrator or the SCB. All conduct hearing appeals will be heard by the Appeals Board, which consists of three voting members: one representative from Academic Affairs, one representative from Student Life, and a trained student representative.

The Director of OSCCR, or designee, will serve as an advisor of the Appeals Board. When a current participant of a Global Experience Office program or a Student Organization files an appeal, a staff member of those respective programs will join the Appeals Board.

Appeals must be made in writing using the electronic Appeal Request Form and must demonstrate one of the following grounds for appeal:

Procedural Error: The student asserts a procedural error impaired their right to a fair opportunity to be heard

New Information: Information has arisen that could not reasonably have been made available during the original hearing and may have been sufficient to alter the SCB/Hearing Administrator's decision

Review of Sanctions: The student requests a review of the imposed sanction(s), citing undue hardship caused by sanctioning or individual extraordinary circumstances.

The appeals process is primarily a paper process and will not involve a meeting with the charged student or other persons unless requested by the Appeals Board.

The Appeals Board will review the electronic appeal submitted by the appealing party, the documentation from the original case, and any other information deemed necessary by OSCCR. The audio or video recording of the original hearing (in the case of SCB hearings) will be made available to the Appeals Board.

Please Note: The submitting of an Appeal Request Form will not operate to stay the effect of sanctions imposed by the Hearing Administrator or the Student Conduct Board/Title IX/Sex and Gender-Based Harassment Board. The Appeal Request Form may request that sanctions imposed be stayed, or modified, pending the determination of the appeal, and the reasons for such request are to be set forth within the Appeal Request Form. The Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life, or their designee, in his or her discretion may suspend, stay, or modify sanctions imposed, subject to such conditions as they may deem appropriate.

The Appeals Board will take one of the following actions:

- a. Concur with original decision.
- b. Refer the matter to the appropriate hearing body if based on a procedural error. In this case, the entire case will be reheard, as if it had not been heard before.
- c. Refer the matter back to the original hearing body if based on the grounds of new information. The original body, complainant, charged students, and if required, witnesses, will be reconvened to review only the new information. The hearing body will then render a decision based on the new information.
- d. Mitigate the sanction. Students should understand that this option is exercised only in rare circumstances. The University reserves the right to take any action necessary to corroborate the student's statements.

All decisions of the Appeals Board may be recommended to the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life, or designee, for final approval.

In some cases, including, but not limited to, bullying, harassment, physical abuse, and academic integrity, the charged student and the complainant have the right to an appeal based on the three reasons stated above. If either party involved in one of these cases files an appeal, the following procedure will take place:

- a. The appeal will be reviewed by the Director in the OSCCR and passed on to the original hearing administrator.
- b. The non-appealing party will be notified, provided with a copy of the appeal, and given the opportunity to submit a written response to the appeal within two (2) business days.

- c. The Appeals Board will review all available documentation, including the documents provided for the original hearing and all appeal-related documents/statements submitted by all parties, and take one of the actions outlined above. The Appeals Board shall make all reasonable efforts to respond within 10-15 business days.

Standards of Conduct

A list of the University policies, rules, and regulations required of all students can be found below. Students are required to become familiar with these policies, and all University, program, and departmental policies, and must comply with them. Violations of any of these policies will be handled in accordance with the appropriate University procedure.

The use and/or abuse of alcohol and/or drugs will not be considered a mitigating circumstance for any violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Rather, individuals may be additionally charged with the appropriate alcohol or drug violation. For information regarding standards of conduct related to sexual violence and Title IX, including the definition of consent and the definition of Title IX Prohibited offenses, please refer to the University's Policy on Sexual and Gender Based Harassment and Title IX.

Violations are listed in alphabetical order, and the order of violations is not indicative of the seriousness of each violation. All violations are assigned a typical hearing type, which correlates to the sanctions that may be imposed and represents the degree of severity for that individual violation. Other factors may require a case to be resolved through the other hearing type. Such factors include the student's conduct history, the severity of the harm caused with this specific incident, the nature of the violation, and the alleged violation of more than one standard of conduct. Experience demonstrates that inappropriate behavior will often involve violations of more than one standard of conduct listed in this Code.

Repeated violations, multiple violations, or the severity of the misconduct may heighten the University's response, which could include Suspension or Expulsion from the University and/or cancellation of the Residence Hall and Dining License Agreement.

The University reserves the right to notify parents when a student has been referred to OSCCR.

Academic Integrity

As defined in the Academic Integrity Policy (pages 47-51).

Aiding and Abetting

Knowingly assisting with or cooperating in an act or action that violates the Code. A student may be held responsible as though the student was a direct participant in the violation, even if information indicates the student was not directly involved in the perpetration of the violation.

Alcohol, Marijuana, Other Drugs, & Medical Amnesty

The University expects that all of its students, whether on or off campus, abide by the law and University regulations concerning alcohol and drug use.

Alcohol

- 1. A person under the legal drinking age as defined by local law is prohibited from being in the presence of alcoholic beverages in the residence halls and housing provided and/or arranged by Northeastern, with the following exception: an individual under the legal drinking age who has a roommate of legal drinking age may be in the presence of an open container of alcohol in the room only if the roommate of legal drinking age is also present. Non-roommates who are under the legal drinking age may not be in the room when alcohol is being consumed by the of-age roommate.
- 2. A person under the legal drinking age is prohibited from possessing empty alcohol containers.
- 3. For non-University sponsored events at which alcohol will be served or consumed, no postings, announcements, promotions, or ticket sales may be made, placed, or distributed on Northeastern University-owned or -leased property.
- 4. On campus possession of a keg, beerball, alcohol by the case, other central sources of alcoholic beverages, or other unauthorized quantities of alcohol is not permitted. Personal possession of alcoholic beverages is limited to one twelve-pack of beer (144 ounces/4.26 liters) OR one-half gallon (64 ounces/1.89 liters) of wine OR one pint (16 ounces/470 milliliters) of hard liquor.
- 5. Possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages in locations or under conditions prohibited by University policy or by law.
 - a. A person must be of legal drinking age to possess or consume alcoholic beverages.
 - b. An individual of legal drinking age may possess and/or consume alcohol only in the student's residence hall room or in the residence hall room of another resident who is of legal drinking age and present in the room, provided alcohol is permitted in that residence hall for students of legal drinking age.
 - c. In Massachusetts, any person under 21 years of age may not transport or carry alcohol.
 - d. Prohibited locations include, but are not limited to, hallways, lobbies, lounges, stairwells, classrooms, studios, technical facilities, auditoriums, bathrooms, outdoor areas, vehicles, or any other public areas without authorization.

 - c. Distributing alcohol includes providing a central source or large quantity of alcohol.

Drugs

- 1. Knowingly being in the presence of illegal drugs.
- 2. Possession or consumption of: illegal drugs (including marijuana), salvia divinorum, prescription medications belonging to another individual, or over-the-counter substances, nitrous oxide, or other available substances to “get high” or induce a mind-altering state.

 - a. Manufacturing or cultivation of drugs, on or off-campus.

Medical Amnesty

In cases of a drug or alcohol emergency, the primary concern is the health and safety of the individual(s) involved. Students/organizations are strongly encouraged to call for medical assistance (617 .373 .3333) for themselves or for another student who they observe to be or feel is dangerously intoxicated/under the influence of drugs. If a student/organization calls on behalf of another student, that student/organization is required to remain with the student experiencing the emergency until medical assistance arrives. Neither the caller nor student requiring medical assistance for an alcohol or other drug- related emergency will be subject to University disciplinary action for the violation of possession or consumption of alcohol or drugs. This policy shall extend to the parties actively involved in proactively calling for medical assistance and is determined at the discretion of the Director of OSCCR.

The student requiring medical assistance (and possibly the referring student(s)/ organization) will receive Medical Amnesty and will have a confidential “check-in” meeting with a staff member from the Office of Prevention and Education at Northeastern (OPEN), and may also be contacted by various campus departments (e. g., WeCare and NUPD) for an optional follow-up conversation regarding the incident. As long as the student(s)/ organization complies with all directives, there will be no disciplinary action taken related to the violation of possession or consumption of alcohol or drugs and no disciplinary record of the incident kept in the OSCCR. This policy applies only to those students or organizations who seek emergency medical assistance in connection with an alcohol or drug-related medical emergency and does not apply to individuals experiencing an alcohol or drug-related medical emergency who are found by University employees (e. g., Northeastern University Police, faculty, administrative staff, or residence hall staff), or where the reporting student(s)/organization did not stay with them .

The Medical Amnesty Policy is not intended to shield or protect those students or organizations that repeatedly violate the Code. When repeated instances of drug or alcohol emergencies occur, the University reserves the right to take disciplinary action on a case- by-case basis regardless of the manner in which the incident was reported.

Medical Amnesty applies only to alcohol or other drug-related emergencies but does not apply to other conduct violations such as but not limited to assault, property damage, or distribution of illicit substances. If other violations occur, then a student may face disciplinary charges for those violations. The use or abuse of alcohol or drugs is not considered a mitigating circumstance for any other violations of the Code. Medical Amnesty applies only to the University response to a medical emergency. The Medical Amnesty Policy applies only to OSCCR proceedings and does not affect any separate law enforcement actions or criminal proceedings.

SANCTIONS

Hearing Administrators and/or Boards impose sanctions when a finding of responsible

*The totality of an incident and alleged severity of impact to the community will be considered in determining the hearing type required to resolve cases. This means that the hearing type identified in parentheses after each violation may not be the type of hearing used to resolve the incident. This is true for all charges based on the specific circumstances of the case, not just those marked with a notation. Please note that when multiple violations may have occurred or previous history warrants, the level of severity of an entire incident will be considered in determining appropriate hearing type.

Sanctions are imposed to strengthen learning and assist students/organizations in adopting behaviors in order to avoid repeat violations. In determining appropriate sanctions, Hearing Administrators and/or Boards look at the totality of the incident(s)/situation and its impact on the community rather than looking at individual violations. In addition, they consider/weigh the impact of the following:

1. Nature of the violation(s) – what happened?
2. Severity of the impact caused (damage, injury, or harm, etc.) from this incident.
3. Charged student’s past disciplinary record, which could increase the severity of sanctions imposed for incident in question.
4. Mitigating circumstances.
5. Aggravating circumstances, which may include bias-motivation.

Once these factors have been taken into consideration, Hearing Administrators and/or Boards will look to impose at least one inactive sanction and at least one active sanction. In many instances, more than one active sanction will be imposed. A list of possible sanctions follows. Hearing Administrators and/or Boards reserve the right to create active sanctions not included on this list if they determine that the sanction better addresses the concern and provides an appropriate opportunity for learning.

Inactive: may affect students’ good standing with the University and may not require any sort of action on the part of the student.

1. Expulsion, which is the permanent separation of the student from the University. Students are permanently banned from entering all University property and prohibited from participating in any University-sponsored activities. A permanent notation, “Withdrawn Expelled (WE),” will appear on the student’s transcript.

- 2. Suspension, which is the separation of the student from the University for a specified period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. During the period of suspension, students are banned from entering all University property, may not live in University housing, and are prohibited from participating in any University-sponsored activities. Students are expected to adhere to all University policies while on suspension and will be held accountable for any violations during the period of suspension. Students will not be granted credit for any academic work during the period of suspension (including a cooperative work assignment). A student will continue on disciplinary probation for a specified period of time following the completion of suspension.
- 3. Deferred Suspension, which is the most serious formal warning for violation of University rules/regulations that affects the student's good standing with the University. Students on deferred suspension may be limited in their ability to attend University programs, including those outside the country, during the period of deferred suspension. Deferred suspension is for a designated period of time. If the student is found responsible for violating any additional University rule/ regulation during the period of deferred suspension, suspension may become effective, and the student may be subject to additional sanctions for the additional violation. Restrictions and/or conditions regarding participation in University-sponsored activities may be imposed. Students on deferred suspension may be members of organizations but may not hold any elected or appointed position in any recognized student organization or group, represent the student body on any University committee, or serve the University in other leadership positions. A student will continue on disciplinary probation for a specified period of time following the completion of deferred suspension.
- 4. Disciplinary Probation is a formal warning for violation of University rules/regulations Probation is for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe sanctions to be imposed if the student is found in violation of any University rules/regulations during the period of probation.ation of any University rules/regulations during the period of probation.
- 5. Letter of Warning, which is a formal warning for violation of University rules/regulations, including a statement that continuation or repetition of prohibited conduct may result in more serious sanctions.
- 6. Cancellation of the Residence Hall and Dining License Agreement, which results in the separation of the student from University residence facilities either permanently or temporarily. Upon the cancellation of the agreement, the student is banned from entering all University residence facilities during the specified period of separation.

Active: requires student to take action

1. Loss of membership in teams, clubs, and/or officially recognized organizations.
2. Loss of ability to hold any elected or appointed positions in any recognized student organization or group, represent the student body on any University committee, or serve the University in other leadership positions. Students may be members of organizations and may run for office while on this status but may not take office while it is in effect.
3. Loss of access to University buildings, facilities, or resources for a specified period of time or permanently.
4. Mandated service.
5. Restitution, which requires the student to make payment to the University or to specified individuals, groups, or organizations for costs incurred as a result of violation of University rules/regulations.
6. Loss of guest privileges on campus or in residence halls.
7. Submittal of letter of apology to complainant/affected party.
8. Counseling evaluation.
9. Educational sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, attending a program, developing a program, and/or writing a paper. Students may be charged a fee to attend an educational program.
10. Fines for alcohol and drug cases. Mandated service may be completed in lieu of paying the fine, should the student make that request.

The University also reserves the right to sanction any student found responsible, who pleads no contest, or is found guilty in a court of law for a violation of law. In these instances, disciplinary action will be administered through OSCCR and will not be processed by the SCB. Students who are suspended, expelled, or have their Residence Hall and Dining License Agreement canceled are subject to "Refund Policies" found in this Handbook and the Residence Hall and Dining License Agreement refund policy.

In addition, students should review their financial aid and scholarship information to get clarification on those policies.

While the Hearing Administrator and/or SCB have discretion to impose sanctions they determine most appropriate based on the considerations described above, the Code provides sanctioning guidelines for drug and alcohol violations. The sanctions set forth below provide Hearing Administrators with a starting point for sanctioning cases involving alcohol and/or drugs. Depending on the information obtained through the Hearing and the severity of the harm, the imposed sanctions may be enhanced or lessened. Please be advised that students found responsible for violating the Code risk the cancellation of their Residence Hall License and Dining Agreement.

Parent/Guardian Notification

In accordance with federal law, the University reserves the right to notify parent(s)/ guardian(s) regarding the outcome of all conduct matters. Specifically, the University will notify parent(s)/guardian(s) in cases involving alcohol or drugs, matters that pose a threat to the health and safety of the student and/or the community, and at the beginning and end of cases that could result in the student's suspension or expulsion from the University.

Interim Suspension

The Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life or their designee may impose an interim suspension on a student if sufficient facts indicate that the student presents a threat to the University community. In most instances, a student who has been interimsly suspended from the University will be immediately banned from the University community. Interim suspension may include restrictions on class attendance, access into residence halls, and/ or access to or use of University-owned or operated property. The Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life or their designee may remove the interim suspension.

Students who have been interimsly suspended from the University will have a hold placed on their record and will need to make advance arrangements with the OSCCR for approval any time they may need to be on campus to take care of University-related business during the period of the interim suspension.

In cases involving interim suspension, every effort will be made, if practicable, to conclude the hearing and obtain a decision on the charges within 10 business days after the interim suspension was imposed.

No Contact Order

When the University determines the severity of an incident rises to the level where continued contact between the involved parties could lead to further incidents and/or the creation of an unhealthy, unsafe, and/or hostile environment, it may impose a No Contact Order on the parties involved with the incident. OSCCR is the one office granted authority to issue these No Contact Orders. Communication of this order will be made via email to the student's Northeastern email account.

Temporary Measures Administrative Directive

If a student or student organization is acting in such a way that may prove to be a violation of the Code of Student Conduct, the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life, or designee, may issue an administrative directive prohibiting the continuation of such behavior. It is not necessary for there to be current ongoing proceedings or even charges against the student or student organization when an administrative directive is issued.

A designated University administrator may issue an administrative directive, according to the guidelines listed, when harm is deemed to be occurring and immediate action is deemed necessary. OSCCR will enforce the directive.

- 1. A designated University administrator may issue an administrative directive:
 - a. To prevent a student or student organization from acting in specified ways that may result in violations of the Code. The designated University administrator may also prevent a student or student organization from committing an act that would negatively impact or interfere with OSCCR proceedings, or any other similar proceedings.

- b. To restrain a student or student organization from assuming or exercising privileges granted to them by the University, pending action, until a final judgment can be rendered.
- 2. In order to receive an administrative directive, the prohibited action must be within the jurisdiction of the administrator issuing such an order, or such administrator's designee.
- 3. The designated administrator determines the date that the administrative directive expires, a period which initially will not exceed 10 days. The 10-day period may be extended, in consultation with the designated administrator's immediate supervisor, or if the restrained party consents to an extension.
- 4. Administrative directives will specify the reasons for the directive, the act or acts that are prohibited, and the student or organization bound by such directive.

Maintenance of Disciplinary Records

- 1. The University will permanently maintain the conduct records of those students separated from Northeastern by suspension or expulsion. A notation will be placed on the transcript of any student expelled from the University. A hold will be placed on the account of any student that withdraws, takes a leave of absence, or becomes inactive prior to the resolution of disciplinary charges. Such hold may not be lifted until the pending charges are resolved.
- 2. The University will expunge the conduct records of those students who received sanctions other than suspension or expulsion three (3) years after the student's withdrawal or immediately upon their graduation date from Northeastern.
- 3. Students have the right to submit any documentation in their conduct file to amend a record they believe to be inaccurate or misleading. Please refer to pages 63-68 of this Handbook for additional information about the University's policy on rights related to education records and guidelines regarding release and disclosure of student records.

Interpretation and Application

- 1. Any question of interpretation or application of the Code of Student Conduct shall be referred to the Director of the OSCCR or designee.
- 2. The Code and its related procedures do not preempt or supplant any similar rules and regulations maintained by individual colleges, programs, departments, or offices. For example, student-athletes and members of student organizations must also abide by the policies of the Athletics Department and the Center for Student Involvement, respectively. Any proceedings under such policies may run concurrently with those described herein.
- 3. Nothing in this Handbook limits the University's right to take any action it deems necessary to comply with applicable local, state, and federal law.

FINANCIAL AID AND GENERAL FINANCIAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Financial Aid Policies

Student Financial Services reserves the right to adjust a student's initial financial aid award, subsequent to the receipt of the award, based upon information brought to the office's attention, including, but not limited to, outside scholarships, revised family financial data, or employer-based tuition remission from other colleges. Please note, financial aid awards for incoming, undergraduate day students are based on the expectation that students will reside in university housing for their first and second year. If a student's housing plans change, a review and possible recalculation of their financial aid award will occur. Additional information regarding financial aid and financial policies and procedures is available online at studentfinance.northeastern.edu.

Change in circumstances If the student believes that the aid process does not accurately reflect their financial situation, or if family circumstances change during the year, the student should notify the Office of Student Financial Services for further evaluation.

Change in enrollment status Students must notify Student Financial Services about any change in a planned period of enrollment, whether due to withdrawal from a class, a leave of absence, a change in co-op or in class, an approved reduction in course load, or withdrawal from the University. Changes in enrollment may impact types and amounts of financial aid offered by Northeastern.

Outside sources of aid Students must notify Student Financial Services of any aid received from outside sources, such as scholarships. A review and possible recalculation of a student's financial aid award will occur.

Reapplication process Students must re-apply for financial aid each academic year, by filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). To receive priority consideration for aid, the federal processor must receive the FAFSA by April 1. The FAFSA can be completed at fafsa.gov.

Whenever possible, and if eligible, we suggest using the IRS Data Retrieval Tool to have completed tax information directly transferred to the FAFSA.

Satisfactory academic progress To continue receiving financial aid, students must maintain at least a 1.800 GPA by the end of their freshman year and make continuous, timely progress toward completing degree requirements. Student GPAs are reviewed annually at the end of spring semester. Students must have at least a 2.000 by the end of their second academic year and thereafter. When a student's GPA falls below the required minimum, the student may appeal to continue receiving aid. If the appeal is granted, the student will be placed on probation and allowed one academic semester of aid. The student's academic progress will be monitored during this probationary term to determine whether they are meeting the terms of their SAP appeal and will be eligible for financial aid in a subsequent term. Additional aid will not be allowed thereafter until the GPA reaches the required 2.000 level. Please note, some scholarships require a minimum GPA above 2.000 to maintain eligibility.

*If a student attends a class in California, the specific state refund policy will be applied in addition to the University Institutional Refund Policy.

Students must also meet certain quantitative requirements to retain their eligibility for financial aid. Students are expected to complete the requirements for a degree within a reasonable time frame. The allowable time is based upon the number of hours each student attempts. Undergraduate students must earn at least 67% of their cumulative attempted credits to maintain satisfactory academic progress. The maximum number of hours a student is allowed to attempt for a first bachelor's degree program is 150% of the minimum number of hours required to graduate in a specific major. For example: If 120 hours of course work is required to complete the degree, then a student can attempt a maximum of 180 hours (120 x 150%). This includes all course work attempted at Northeastern, including credit courses, remedial/developmental courses, pass/fail courses, and all transfer work from other institutions that is accepted by Northeastern. Please visit studentfinance.northeastern.edu/policies-procedures/satisfactory-academic-progress for additional information.

FAFSA Verification If a student is selected for Verification, the Student Financial Services office may be required to collect additional financial documents to verify the information provided on the FAFSA. Aid cannot be determined, finalized, or disbursed until this process is complete.

Billing and Payments

Billing statements are generated approximately four to six weeks prior to the beginning of the semester and are posted to the Student Hub. An email will be sent to the student when billing statements are ready to view.

Full payment of tuition, residence hall fees, and other related charges is due prior to the start of the term, as specified on the original billing statement. A past-due balance may result in prevention of registration, grade or diploma release, assessment of late fees, and/or financial holds applied to the account. Balances that are over 90 days past the original due date for the term may be sent to Heartland ECSI. For additional information regarding Heartland ECSI, please visit studentfinance.northeastern.edu/billing-payments/payment-partners or recoveryselect.com. Please note, payments will be accepted for billable charges only.

The university is not able to process payments for more than the balance due on the student's account.

Undergraduate students may authorize parent or guardian access to the Family Portal to view billing statements and make payments. Information and instructions can be found online at accounts.northeastern.edu.

Student Financial Responsibility Agreement (SFRA)

Each academic year, students must complete the Student Financial Responsibility Agreement (SFRA), which informs students of the financial responsibilities associated with enrolling for classes and explains potential consequences that may result if a student fails to meet those obligations. Students will have an SFRA hold on their account once per academic year. Once the SFRA is completed, the hold will be removed. For additional information, visit studentfinance.northeastern.edu/billing-payments/sfra.

Monthly Payment Plan The university offers monthly payment plans, administered by Flywire, which allows students and families to divide educational costs into smaller, more manageable installments. To learn more or enroll in a monthly payment plan, visit <https://sso.myonplanu.com/landing/northeastern>.

Discrepancies in Your Bill Discrepancies in your bill should be addressed in writing to the Student Accounts Office. Include your name, NU ID, Northeastern email address, dollar amount in question, date of invoice, and any other information you believe is relevant. E-mail this information to studentaccounts@northeastern.edu from your Northeastern email address. The subject line should read: Billing Dispute. Responses will be sent to the student's Northeastern email address. Please be sure to pay the undisputed part of the bill to avoid responsibility for any late fees or financial holds.

Past-Due Balances A past-due balance may result in prevention of registration, grade or diploma release, or assessment of late fees. Balances that are over 90 days past the original due date may be sent to Heartland ECSI. Heartland ECSI works with students to resolve their past-due balance to avoid disrupting the student's educational experience. All past-due balances must be paid in full prior to a student being able to complete the registration process for a future term. Additional information regarding Heartland ECSI is available on our website, studentfinance.northeastern.edu/billing-payments/payment-partners, or recoveryselect.com

In cases where a student defaults on financial obligations, the student may be withdrawn from the university and is liable for the outstanding balance, collection costs, and any legal fees incurred by the university during the collection process.

Reduced Loads and Course Overloads Undergraduate day tuition is charged on a flat, per-term basis which includes the cost of each student's academic curriculum requirements for that term.

Adjustments for reduced loads are automatically made only when the Petition to Reduce Load is approved by the academic department and the Office of the Registrar. (NOTE: This form is not to be used by students registered with the Disability Resource Center. Visit the DRC website for details.) Adjustments will then be made if the course load falls below 12 credits during full semesters and six credits during summer half sessions (calculated at the per-credit-hour rate). To receive an adjustment, the Petition to Reduce Load must be submitted prior to the start of the term. No rebate or credit is granted when a student voluntarily drops a course.

Adjustments for coursework greater than the prescribed curriculum for the term is calculated at the overload rate. Students taking more than eight credits (summer half-session) or 16 credits (full semester) will be charged an additional per credit hour rate for each credit hour beyond the prescribed curriculum for that term. Undergraduate full-time day students may register for one additional music ensemble course without added charge. The list of eligible courses can be found in the Undergraduate Catalog on the Office of the Registrar's website: northeastern.edu/registrar. Students registered for co-op and taking a class will be billed at the per-credit-hour rate. Students on co-op enrolled in more than 12 credits during full semesters and six credits during summer half sessions are billed the flat-per-term tuition.

Refund Policies

Inquiries about credit balances should be directed to the Student Accounts area of Student Financial Services. Credit balances will be refunded to the student unless otherwise directed by the student or the bill payer. Please note, if an eligible credit or debit card payment has been made, credit balances will be refunded to the credit card used. For additional information about refunds, please visit studentfinance.northeastern.edu/policies-procedures/student-refund-requests.

Please note the following exceptions:

- PLUS or MEFA Loans – Credit balances that result from Federal Direct Parent PLUS or MEFA Loan funds will be refunded to the borrower unless the borrower completes and returns a Refund Authorization Form (available online at studentfinance.northeastern.edu/forms).
- Payments via Flywire/bank transfer – Refunds of credit balances caused by an overpayment via our international payment provider, Flywire, or via wire payment will be refunded through the same process.

Official Withdrawal Adjustments Students who officially withdraw from the University during an academic term will receive a tuition refund based on the policy specified in this handbook. Institutional funds awarded by Northeastern University will be adjusted based on the actual charges incurred during the semester. Funds from federal Title IV programs will be returned to the government according to federal regulations. The federal government “return of funds” policy dictates that a student’s eligibility for federal financial aid is determined by the number of days enrolled during the semester. The refund will be calculated from the day the student last attended class. For online-only classes, the last date of attendance is the last date the online course was accessed.

Tuition credits for a complete university withdrawal are granted through the first five weeks of a semester or first four weeks of a half-semester, based on the date of the official withdrawal processed by the Registrar’s Office. Nonattendance does not constitute official withdrawal. Credit policies vary according to the duration of the course. Typical tuition adjustments are made according to the following schedule. (The first week ends on the Saturday following the official “classes begin” date published in the academic calendar.)

During full semester

During the first week – 100% refund
During the second week – 100% refund
During the third week – 100% refund
During the fourth week – 60% refund
During the fifth week – 40% refund
After the fifth week – no refund

Summer half-semesters

During the first week – 100% refund
During the second week – 100% refund
During the third week – 50% refund
During the fourth week – 25% refund
After the fourth week – no refund

Unofficial Withdrawal Adjustments Nonattendance does not constitute official withdrawal. If a student who began attendance and did not officially withdraw fails to earn a passing grade in at least one course over an entire term, the University may assume that the student has unofficially withdrawn. For this purpose, nonpassing grades are defined as W, NE, *, IP, L, or I. Unofficial withdrawals will be determined within 30 days of the end of the term. The withdrawal date used for aid recalculation is the midpoint of the term.

Other Adjustments

Resident rate adjustments Resident rate adjustments are made by Housing Services. For specific rate adjustments, refer to the office's Residence Hall and Dining License Agreement.

Tuition paid directly by employers In those situations where the tuition is paid directly to the University by a third party, the student must provide the Student Financial Services/Student Accounts Office with a purchase order or a written statement of intent to pay by the third party. If there are stipulations associated with the payment agreement, such as a minimum grade level, then the student must either pay the University directly or enroll in one of the payment options.

Tuition reimbursement Many companies, embassies, and agencies directly reimburse students for their educational expenses upon successful completion of courses. In these situations, the student is responsible for paying the bill at the beginning of the semester or selecting another payment option. Tuition may not be left unpaid pending reimbursement by a third party.

Tuition and fees, default policy tuition rates, all fees, rules and regulations, courses and course content, are subject to revision by the president and the Board of Trustees at any time. In cases where the student defaults on their tuition, the student may be withdrawn from the University and is liable for the outstanding tuition and all reasonable associated collection costs incurred by the University, including attorneys' fees.

Mandatory student health insurance Massachusetts state law requires that all full-time and three-quarter-time matriculated college students be enrolled in a health insurance plan that meets the state requirements. Northeastern University's Student Health Plan (NUSHP) meets and exceeds state requirements and is required for those students who do not have comparable coverage with another health insurance plan. If you have comparable health insurance, you may waive enrollment in NUSHP by completing an online waiver form on the Student Hub by the designated deadline date. For more information visit northeastern.edu/nushp or contact nushp@northeastern.edu.

Medical or Emergency Leave of Absence Tuition and Fee Adjustment

Tuition and fee adjustments for a leave of absence from the university are subject to, and determined in accordance with, the Official Withdrawal refund policy. For information regarding the tuition and fee policy for medical or emergency leaves of absence, please visit the Student Financial Services website, studentfinance.northeastern.edu/policies-procedures. If you are a financial aid recipient, please note that you must also contact Student Financial Services to discuss the effects on aid received. Please see the Undergraduate Catalog for further Information on how to apply for a leave of absence.

Disability Resource Center Tuition Adjustments

Students who are registered with Northeastern's Disability Resource Center (DRC) and are approved for a reduced course load may be eligible to petition to the DRC for tuition adjustments directly related to their documented disability. Financial aid may be reduced if tuition is reduced. Further information is available from the DRC.

DELIVERY OF SERVICES

Northeastern University assumes no liability for delay or failure to provide educational or other services or facilities due to causes beyond its reasonable control. Causes include, without limitation, power failure, fire, strikes by university employees or others, damage by natural elements, and acts of public authorities. The university will, however, exert reasonable efforts, when it judges them to be appropriate, to provide comparable services, facilities, or performance; but its inability or failure to do so shall not subject the university to liability.

In the event that Northeastern determines it must suspend or alter its operations in whole or in part due to epidemic, pandemic, other public health emergency, extreme weather, natural disaster, acts or threatened acts of terrorism or war, or any single act or combination of events beyond the university's control, Northeastern may suspend, reduce, terminate and/or modify its operations in whole or in part, which may or may not include offering online or other alternative learning options, in its discretion. In any such event, Northeastern University is under no obligation to refund or credit any portion of tuition, fees, or other charges paid or owed, but it may do so in its discretion.

Northeastern University reserves the sole right to promulgate and change rules and regulations and to make changes of any nature in its program; calendar; admissions policies, procedures, and standards; degree requirements; fees; and academic schedule whenever necessary or desirable, including, without limitation, changes in course content and class schedule, the cancellation of scheduled classes and other academic activities, and the substitution of alternatives for scheduled classes and other academic activities. In any such case, the university will give whatever notice is reasonably practical.

Northeastern University will endeavor to make available to its students a fine education and a stimulating and congenial environment. However, the quality and rate of progress of an individual's academic career and professional advancement upon completion of a degree or program are largely dependent on the individual's own abilities, commitment, and effort. In many professions and occupations, there are also requirements imposed by federal and state statutes and regulatory agencies for certification or entry into a particular field. These requirements may change while a student is enrolled in a program and may vary from state to state or country to country. Although the university stands ready to help its students find out about requirements and changes in them, it is the student's responsibility to initiate the inquiry.

POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

Northeastern University expects all students to be familiar with and to adhere to all applicable university policies and regulations. Some of those policies and regulations are described below and throughout the Handbook, but this list is not exhaustive. Current versions of university-wide and campus-specific policies are available at policies.northeastern.edu/, and additional resources are available on each campus's website. Please review the policies and regulations that follow as well as all other regulations or limitations included throughout this handbook. Your success at Northeastern depends, in part, on understanding your rights and fulfilling your responsibilities.

- The University's Policy on Sexual- and Gender-Based Harassment and Title IX can be found at policies.northeastern.edu/policy104/.

Policy on Non-Fraternization

Northeastern University strives to provide an environment for students, faculty, and staff that is respectful, fair, and free of unlawful harassment or discrimination. In keeping with its commitment to provide equal opportunity to students, faculty, and staff, and in order to avoid potential conflicts of interest, favoritism, exploitation, harassment, or breaches of professional standards, the University's Policy on Non-Fraternization prohibits romantic or sexual relationships where there is supervision, direction, or control between the parties.

- The University's Policy on Non-Fraternization, as well as other helpful information, can be found at policies.northeastern.edu/policy108/ and northeastern.edu/ovec/.

ADA Classroom Accommodations Appeals Procedure

Northeastern University endeavors to provide equal access to all programs and services for students with disabilities. The Disability Resource Center (DRC) may approve a variety of reasonable accommodations, depending on an individual student's needs. For more information on requesting accommodations, please visit drc.sites.northeastern.edu. The DRC also provides an accommodation appeal process for students with disabilities who believe their accommodation requests were unduly denied. For more information, please go to northeastern.edu/drc/.

Hazing (Chapter 269 of the Massachusetts General Laws)

The University's Policy Prohibiting Hazing can be found at policies.northeastern.edu/policy606/. Additionally, chapter 269 of the Mass. General Laws also prohibits hazing and requires that the university publish the following statutory provisions applicable in Massachusetts.

Section 17. "Whoever is a principal organizer or participant in the crime of hazing, as defined herein, shall be punished by a fine of not more than three thousand dollars or by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment."

"The term 'hazing' as used in this section and in sections eighteen and nineteen, shall mean any conduct or method of initiation into any student organization, whether on public or private property, which willfully or recklessly endangers the physical or mental health of any student or other person. Such conduct shall include whipping; beating; branding; forced calisthenics; exposure to weather; forced consumption of any food, liquor, beverage, drug, or other substance; or any other brutal treatment or forced physical activity which is likely to adversely affect the physical health or safety of any such student or other person, or which subjects such student or other person to extreme mental stress, including extended deprivation of sleep or rest or extended isolation."

“Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section to the contrary, consent shall not be available as a defense to any prosecution under this action.”

Section 18. “Whoever knows that another person is the victim of hazing as defined in section seventeen and is at the scene of such crime shall, to the extent that such person can do so without danger or peril to himself or others, report such crime to an appropriate law enforcement official as soon as reasonably practicable. Whoever fails to report such crime shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.”

Section 19. “Each institution of secondary education and each public and private institution of postsecondary education shall issue to every student group, student team, or student organization which is part of such institution or is recognized by the institution or permitted by the institution to use its name and facilities or is known by the institution to exist as an unaffiliated student group, student team, or student organization, a copy of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen; provided, however, that an institution’s compliance with the section’s requirements that an institution issue copies of this section and section seventeen and eighteen to unaffiliated student groups, teams, or organizations shall not constitute evidence of the institution’s recognition or endorsement of said unaffiliated student groups, teams, or organizations.”

“Each such group, team, or organization shall distribute a copy of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen to each of its members, plebes, pledges, or applicants for membership. It shall be the duty of each such group, team, or organization, acting through its designated officer, to deliver annually to the institution an attested acknowledgment stating that such group, team, or organization has received a copy of this section and said sections seventeen and eighteen, that each of its members, plebes, pledges, or applicants has received a copy of sections seventeen and eighteen, and that such group, team, or organization understands and agrees to comply with the provisions of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen.”

“Each institution of secondary education and each public or private institution of post-secondary education shall, at least annually, before or at the start of enrollment, deliver to each person who enrolls as a full-time student in such institution a copy of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen.”

“Each institution of secondary education and each public or private institution of post-secondary education shall file, at least annually, a report with the regents of higher education and in the case of secondary institutions, the board of education, certifying that such institution has complied with its responsibility to inform student groups, teams, or organizations and to notify each full-time student enrolled by it of the provisions of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen and also certifying that said institution has adopted a disciplinary policy with regard to the organizers and participants of hazing, and that such policy has been set forth with appropriate emphasis in the student handbook or similar means of communicating the institution's policies to its students. The board of regents and, in the case of secondary institutions, the board of education shall promulgate regulations governing the content and frequency of such reports, and shall forthwith report to the attorney general any such institution which fails to make such report."

Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act

In compliance with the Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act, information regarding graduation rates may be obtained in the Registrar's Office, 271 Huntington Avenue, and in the Department of Athletics, 219 Cabot Physical Education Center; information regarding safety and security may be obtained in the Northeastern Police Department, 100 Columbus Place.

Northeastern University may disclose to an alleged victim of any crime of violence the results of any disciplinary proceeding against the alleged perpetrator of such crime. Further information is available in the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution, 204 Ell Hall.

Use of Alcohol and Drugs

Northeastern University fosters a community that reinforces healthy choices and encourages responsible decision-making regarding the use of alcohol and other drugs. Northeastern strives to maintain a working, living, and learning environment that is free from the negative effects that alcohol and other drug use can create. The University supports this philosophy by providing educational programs, resources for treatment, and referrals for students, faculty, and staff who may experience problems related to substance use.

Federal, state, and local laws consider possession, use, manufacture, distribution, and sale of illegal drugs and drug paraphernalia to be serious crimes. Depending upon the offense, conviction can lead to imprisonment, fines, and assigned community service. Sanctions increase on subsequent convictions or if death or serious injury results from the use of the drug. In addition, a variety of other consequences may occur, including ineligibility for federal student grants and loans, and prevention of future entry into many fields of employment or professions. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in or on any University property. Note that marijuana remains a controlled substance under U.S. federal law, and thus possession or use of marijuana is prohibited on all Northeastern campuses and University activities. Any University employee or student determined to have violated this policy may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal. The use of alcohol while on Northeastern property is prohibited except where specifically authorized by the University. No student may report to class or attend a University-sponsored student activity while under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs. Violation of these regulations may be reason to require assessment and brief intervention at the Office of Prevention and Education at Northeastern (OPEN) and/or University Health and Counseling Services (UHCS). It may also include disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

Northeastern University works to provide a drug-free workplace for all University employees and students. UHCS and OPEN provide resources for treatment and referral for students with substance abuse problems. Additionally, OPEN provides confidential check-in services for students about substance use as well as regular educational programs and events designed to encourage informed decision-making regarding substance use. Educational programs for students, employees, and managers are also presented through Human Resources and UHCS, and cover information and resources about alcohol and drug abuse, the availability of assistance for counseling and rehabilitation, and penalties for violating University policies.

To comply with federal law, the University requires that employees directly engaged in performance of a grant or contract must notify their employers of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than five days after the conviction. The University must notify any federal contracting agency within ten days of having received notice that an employee engaged in the performance of such contract has had a criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace. The University will take appropriate action up to and including dismissal and/or require participation in an approved abuse assistance or rehabilitation program.

Use of Weapons

The use or possession on University Property (which includes, without limitation, all areas owned, leased, or used for University activities) of firearms, explosive agents of any kind, as well as chemicals, mace, and tear gas, is specifically forbidden. Violation of this University policy is cause for disciplinary action up to and including expulsion. The University's Policy on Weapons on Campus can be found at policies.northeastern.edu/policy604/. In addition, it is worth noting that Massachusetts law states:

“Whoever, not being a law enforcement officer and notwithstanding any license obtained by him under the provisions of chapter one hundred and forty, carries on his person a firearm as hereinafter defined, loaded, or unloaded, in any building or on the grounds of any college or university without the written authorization of the board or officer in charge of said college or university shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both. For the purpose of this paragraph, 'firearm' shall mean any pistol, revolver, rifle, or smoothbore arm from which a shot, bullet, or pellet can be discharged by whatever means."

Massachusetts general law prohibits the possession of nunchaku or karate sticks; switchblades; knives; starter's pistols; ammunition; leather armbands or other clothing that has metallic spikes, points, or studs; or other dangerous weapons or articles. A student who possesses any articles for sporting purposes (for example, bow and arrows) should check with the NUPD or the Department of Residential Life to determine whether such articles are among those prohibited by statute or University regulation. Northeastern University also prohibits the possession of knives other than food utensils.

Policies and Procedures

Academic Integrity

A commitment to the principles of academic integrity is essential to the mission of Northeastern University. The promotion of independent and original scholarship fosters an environment where students derive the most from their educational experience and their pursuit of knowledge. Academic dishonesty violates the most fundamental values of an intellectual community and undermines the achievements of the entire University.

As members of the academic community, students must become familiar with their rights and responsibilities. In each course, they are responsible for knowing the requirements and restrictions regarding research and writing, examinations of whatever kind, collaborative work, the use of study aids, the appropriateness of assistance, and other issues. Students are responsible for learning the conventions of documentation and acknowledgment of sources in their fields. Northeastern University expects students to complete all examinations, tests, papers, creative projects, and assignments of any kind according to the highest ethical standards, as set forth either explicitly or implicitly in this Code or by the direction of instructors.

The following is a broad overview, but not an all-encompassing definition, of what constitutes a violation of academic integrity.

Cheating: The University defines cheating as using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise. When completing any academic assignment, a student shall rely on their own mastery of the subject.

Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Unauthorized use of aids, such as but not limited to notes, text, the Internet, artificial intelligence, chatbots, cell phones, etc. to complete any academic assignment.
- Copying from another student's current or past academic work.
- Unauthorized communication during an examination.
- Handing in the same academic material, in part or in total, for more than one course without explicit permission from the instructor(s).
- Intentionally viewing a test before it is administered.
- Storing notes on paper, or in a portable electronic device for use during an examination.

Fabrication: The University defines fabrication as falsification, misrepresentation, or invention of any information, data, or citation in an academic exercise.

Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Inventing data, facts, or sources for an academic assignment.
- Altering the results of a lab experiment or survey.
- Citing a source in a bibliography that was not used.
- Stating an opinion as a scientifically proven fact.

Plagiarism: The University defines plagiarism as using as one's own, the words, ideas, data, code, or other original academic material of another without providing proper citation or attribution. Plagiarism can apply to any assignment, either final or drafted copies, and it can occur either accidentally or deliberately. Claiming that one has "forgotten" to document ideas or material taken from another source does not exempt one from plagiarizing.

The following sources require citation:

- Word-for-word quotations from a source, including another student's work.
- Paraphrasing (using the ideas of others in your own words).
- Unusual or controversial facts not widely recognized.
- Audio, video, digital, or live exchanges of ideas, dialogue, or information. Students unclear as to whether or not a source requires citation should speak with their professor or consult the Writing Center in 412 Holmes Hall.
- Charts, diagrams, graphics, and images.
- When recycling or reusing one's own specific words from previously published texts.

Unauthorized Collaboration: The University defines unauthorized collaboration as instances when students submit individual academic works that are substantially similar to one another. While several students may have the same source material, any analysis, interpretation, or reporting of data required by an assignment must be each individual's independent work unless the instructor has explicitly granted permission for group work.

Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Submitting work that closely matches that of another student, even when the work is to be original to the student handing in the assignment.
- Sharing a take-home examination, case write-up, lab report, or any other assignment with a peer or on any non-personal portfolio website, such as but not exclusive to Chegg, CourseHero, Quizlet, etc., without express permission from the instructor.

Participation in Academically Dishonest Activities: The University defines participation in academically dishonest activities as any action taken by a student with the intention of gaining an unfair advantage over other students.

Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Misrepresenting oneself or one's circumstances to an instructor.
- Stealing an examination.
- Purchasing a prewritten paper.
- Selling, loaning, or otherwise distributing materials intended for the purpose of cheating, plagiarism, or other academically dishonest acts.
- Destroying, altering, stealing, or forging another student's work, library materials, laboratory materials, academic records, course syllabi, or examination/course grades.
- Intentionally missing an examination or assignment deadline to gain an unfair advantage.
- Forging information or signatures on official University documents such as but not limited to attendance logs, resumes, cover letters, honesty statements, etc.

Facilitating Academic Dishonesty: The University defines facilitating academic dishonesty as intentionally or knowingly helping or contributing to the violation of any provision of this policy.

Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Doing academic work for another student.
- Making available previously used academic work for another individual who intends to resubmit the work for credit.

Obligation to Uphold Academic Integrity: All members of the Northeastern University community have a role in upholding the Academic Integrity Policy. Any member of the community who witnesses a violation of this policy should report it to the appropriate faculty member or the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution (OSCCR). All instructors are required to refer to Northeastern's Academic Integrity Policy in their course syllabi.

Options for Instructors Reporting Alleged Violations of the Academic Integrity Policy:

A faculty member who suspects a student in their class, or working under their direction, of violating the Academic Integrity Policy can choose to:

- File official charges with the OSCCR, or
- Submit the complaint as an “information only” case to request that the incident be kept “on file” for the student.

The Director of OSCCR will review all complaints submitted against a student to determine whether sufficient evidence for a violation of the Academic Integrity Policy exists. If the Director determines that the evidence of a potential violation is sufficient, the case will be assigned to a staff member within OSCCR. An instructor who believes that a student made an unintentional mistake should note that belief in an Academic Integrity report. The Director of OSCCR, or designee, will review the report along with supplemental documents provided and any prior student conduct history to determine if an administrative hearing is necessary or if an “Information Only” educational reminder notice is appropriate to increase learning and awareness of campus resources. The faculty member is advised to speak with any student they intend to report for an alleged violation of the Code Student of Conduct.

Sanctions: Hearing Officers and the Student Conduct Board have discretion to impose sanctions for a Responsible finding of an Academic Integrity violation that range in severity from a written warning to expulsion, and include an action taken by the student to help rebuild trust within the community.

Hearing officers will take the following into consideration when determining appropriate sanctions for violations of the Academic Integrity policy:

1. Nature of the violation(s)
2. Severity of the damage, injury, or harm resulting therefrom
3. Student’s past disciplinary record
4. Mitigating circumstances
5. Aggravating circumstances

Appeals: Students may appeal the disciplinary actions of an Academic Integrity violation on the three grounds identified in the Code of Student Conduct.

The Appeals Process outlined in the Code of Student Conduct will be used for such appeals. Please refer to the Code of Student Conduct for a complete description and explanation of the Appeals Process.

Grading Authority: OSCCR does not have authority over assignment or course grades. Therefore, a student who violates Northeastern University’s Academic Integrity Policy may also be subject to academic penalties at the discretion of the instructor in the course. This can result in, but is not restricted to, the student failing the course. A student with questions about the Academic Appeals process should contact the academic advisor to review that process.

Part 7

Use of University-Recognized Messaging Systems

Electronic messages pertaining to the official business of the University, including all academic and administrative matters, shall be sent from University-owned or University-recognized messaging systems. For example, inquiries about students must be sent from an account associated with a University-recognized e-mail system. Replies from faculty or staff must be sent using the same University-recognized accounts. In cases where unrecognized third-party messaging systems are used to originate a message, and/or where a party chooses to forward messages from a University-owned or University-recognized system to a third-party unrecognized system, individuals using these systems shall be solely responsible for all consequences arising from such use.

Part 8

Northeastern reserves the right to reconfigure or disable the network

²A thesis is a student work representing significant original or independent research and for which the student receives a substantial amount of credit toward a degree or certificate. Where there is a question concerning whether or not a student's work is a thesis, the provost or their designee shall make a good-faith determination concerning same, which shall be final and binding on all parties.

port(s) of any user whose activity interferes with NUNet, ResNet, NUWave, or any other University-provided system or service; for example, to address a misconfigured device or a computer infected with virus/malware.

In order to receive ITS support to resolve a problem reported by a student using a privately owned router and/or wireless access point, such problem must be recreated while connected to the ResNet port in question, with privately owned device(s) out of the connection path.

For security reasons, dial-up modems shall not be used on computers while they are connected to the University network. The VPN (Virtual Private Network) shall instead be used.

Part 11

Compliance with Internet Service Provider Terms of Use

Electronic resources are available to faculty and staff only when using "remote access," also known the Virtual Private Network (VPN). The University reserves and intends to exercise its right to determine:

- who may use the VPN,
- from what locations the VPN may be accessed,
- what services and experiences are offered through the VPN, the extent of individual access rights when using the VPN,
- to limit or block connections not originating from the VPN, and
- to assess and approve other secure connection methods.

Exclusions to this policy provision may be made to vendors and affiliates who maintain private connections to the University network.

All users establishing a connection to the University network through the VPN or by any other means are responsible to ensure antivirus software is present on their computer, and that its protection signatures are up to date. For more information on use of the VPN or antivirus software, please refer to the Information Services website.

Part 13

CONFIDENTIALITY/PRIVACY SECTIONS

Part 23

Electronic Content Property of the University Right of University to Monitor Content

University information systems and the messages, e-mail, files, attachments, graphics, and Internet traffic generated through or within these systems are the property of the University. They are not the private property of any University employee, faculty, staff, contractor, student, or any other person. No user of University systems should have an expectation of privacy in their electronic communications. All electronic communications, files, and content presented to and/or passed on the Northeastern network, including those to, from, or through internet connection(s), may be monitored, examined, saved, read, transcribed, stored, or re-transmitted by an authorized employee or agent of the University, in its sole discretion, with or without prior notice to the user. The University reserves and intends to exercise the right to do so. Electronic communications and content may also be examined by automated means.

Part 24

Confidentiality of Content

The confidentiality of any content shall not be assumed. Even when a message or material is deleted, it may still be possible to retrieve and read the message or material. Further, use of passwords for security does not guarantee confidentiality. Messages read in HTML may identify the reader to the sender. Miscellaneous Policies

Behavior on co-op, on externships, and in the neighborhood As an urban institution, Northeastern University is a part of the vibrant community and business life of the surrounding neighborhoods. Maintaining amicable and considerate relations between the University and local residents and businesses is essential to the continued cooperation of the University and its neighbors in civic projects and issues, and to the furtherance of the University's broader mission to contribute to the general good of society. The University endeavors to foster conditions under which such beneficial relations exist. Consequently, the University must consider conduct on the part of members of the University community, whether on or off campus and whether isolated or continuing in nature, that is disruptive of these relations, that impairs, interferes with, or obstructs the lawful missions, processes, and functions of the University, or that is found by the University to be abhorrent or offensive to generally accepted standards of social behavior, as inimical to the University's interests.

The University's Code of Student Conduct governs student behavior on co-op, externships, and in the community surrounding the University. In addition, misbehavior in these settings may violate the law, policies of the co-op employer, or rules of the externship sponsor.

Animals on campus Pets are generally prohibited in University buildings but may be allowed in outdoor areas on University property. Pets do not include service animals or assistance animals which may be permitted as accommodations for persons with disabilities in accordance with applicable federal and state laws. The University's Policy on Animals on Campus is available at policies.northeastern.edu/policy610.

Bicycles Wherever possible, students should use the bike racks available at various locations on campus. Bicycles should not be chained to fences, doors, trees, or other objects, and under no circumstances may bicycles be brought into any University building. The Fire Code dictates that all entrances, exits, corridors, and stairwells must be free and clear at all times. Bicycles found in violation of this code will be removed from the area. Students are encouraged to register their bicycles (and electronic equipment) with NUPD. More info on property registration can be found at nupd.northeastern.edu/our-services/property-registration/.

Campus access Certain facilities, such as residence halls, are designed for and are to be used by residence hall residents only. In the case of classrooms and laboratories, they are designed for and are to be used by members of this academic community only. In all cases, the essential educational purpose of the University cannot be interrupted or disturbed by the access permitted to members of the general public. Officials of the University may restrict or prevent access by the public if such access disturbs or has the potential to disturb classes or other functions of Northeastern University.

Card playing and gambling The University does not permit card playing of any kind in classrooms unless it is a regularly scheduled activity of an organization recognized officially by the Center for Student Involvement. Social card games are permitted in the residence halls and in the Curry Student Center.

Students may not gamble, play pyramid games, or sell lottery tickets. Casino or other game events are permitted in designated areas that are approved by city and state laws, as part of properly scheduled events, and in strict accordance with regulations issued by the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life.

Classroom Conduct Northeastern University expects that classes will be a primary venue for students and faculty opportunities to express and debate diverse views, including those that others may find unwelcome, controversial, disagreeable, or even offensive. (See “Statement on Free Expression” below.) However, all parties to classroom discussion are expected to respect the dignity and shared humanity of others: to express their views civilly, refrain from personal insult and from derogatory or dehumanizing language, and to observe instructor’s guidance on the conduct of discussion. Students who violate these rules will be dismissed from class by the instructor and may not return without the approval of the college.

Copyrightable materials It is the general policy of the University that student papers or projects submitted in partial fulfillment of course requirements remain the property of the student authors.¹ This policy does not apply to (1) “work for hire” as defined by intellectual property laws; (2) work derived wholly or in part from other patented or copyrighted material; (3) work done as part of external grants or contracts in which the contracting documents or regulations define ownership; (4) work in which the University or its agents or employees contribute substantial time or resources; or (5) work considered a thesis or dissertation.

With respect to such work, the University reserves the right to utilize anti-plagiarism software to analyze submitted course-related works. As part of this analysis, the University may retain, or cause to be retained, in a Northeastern database, electronic versions of such work for the sole purpose of analyzing the originality of future student work.

Except as provided above, the University owns the copyright to any work created or developed by one or more students with the significant use of funds, space, facilities, equipment, materials, or other University resources. The University will not normally construe the payment of salary from unrestricted funds or the provision of office and library facilities as constituting significant use of funds, space, facilities, equipment, materials, or other resources of or administered by the University. Use of laboratory and/or computer facilities or assistance from one or more faculty or staff members to a student author specifically pertaining to the work constitutes significant use of University resources. In all cases, the provost or their designee shall make a good-faith determination concerning significant use, which shall be final and binding on all parties.

In the case of a thesis² generated by research performed in whole or in part by a student in the course of or pursuant to an agreement for sponsored research or other written agreement, including an agreement between the author(s) and the University, or utilizing equipment or facilities provided to the University under conditions that impose copyright restrictions, ownership or control shall be determined in accordance with such agreement or restrictions. In the absence of such agreement or restrictions, copyright ownership in such a thesis shall reside in the student. However, the student, as a condition of a degree award, must grant the University the royalty-free right to reproduce and publicly distribute copies of the thesis for limited and noncommercial purposes.

Where necessary to secure to the University an ownership of copyright, students shall assign such rights of copyright, or grant the specified rights of reproduction and distribution, to the University. The University reserves the right to employ, at its discretion, the materials or portions of any work created or developed in the course of an author's relationship with the University, or otherwise covered by the University Patent and Copyright Policy,³ for promotional, professional, or noncommercial purposes on a royalty-free basis.

Certain courses taught at Northeastern University involve students in individual or group assignments or projects involving the creation of materials, objects, or techniques that may be patentable or copyrightable. These courses generally require extraordinary levels of faculty organization and participation and/or substantial University resources.

In accordance with University patent and copyright policies, in such courses the University is the owner of all rights in technology, computer programs, or other creative work that may be developed by the undergraduate or graduate student as part of the student's work in those courses. It is the University's intention, where applicable, to disclose and authorize the use of such technology, programs, or work to nonprofit organizations and to government agencies without a fee. The University may also have the opportunity to license such materials to a commercial enterprise, and in this event, it is the University's intention to share any revenue from such a license with student contributors in an amount determined in accordance with the then-existing University policy or plan. Students are informed early in the semester if the course in which they are enrolled falls within this category and will be asked to sign a letter of agreement. Should the student decline to sign an agreement, they will be assigned to another course section—one in which such agreement is not required—or will be given alternative activities not involving such assignments or projects.

Copyrights and patents Any student who makes, as sole or joint inventor, an invention that involved significant use of University resources, including funds, space, facilities, equipment, or materials, or that is subject to terms of a sponsored research or other agreement between the University and another party, shall assign this invention and all associated applications and patents to the University or its designee unless the invention has been released to the inventor in accordance with the applicable provisions of the University patent policy. Any student, whether before or after terminating their association with the University, shall do whatever is necessary to enable the University or its designee to take out patents in any and all countries on such invention. The cost and expense of making such assignments and procuring such patents shall be borne by the University or its designee.

When an invention is made by a student not involving significant use of funds, space, facilities, equipment, materials, or other resources of or administered by the University, the University will waive its rights, and the invention will be the exclusive property of the student, provided the student's rights in the invention are not altered by the terms of any financial aid received, including external sponsorship, scholarships, fellowships, traineeships, thesis expenses, or other assistance, whether or not administered by the University and provided the invention is not subject to third-party rights.

Curry Student Center Student Center facilities may be reserved by recognized student organizations and University departments. The University reserves the right to limit the use of its facilities when the general public is involved. Refer to Curry Student Center Policies at northeastern.edu/curry for specific building policies.

Demonstrations The University supports the rights of University students to express their views and to protest actions or opinions with which there is disagreement. A university is where individuals express diverse ideas and viewpoints. The University insists that all demonstrations be peaceful and orderly and abide by University regulations. This longstanding policy was developed to protect the interests of those members of the University community who are demonstrating as well as the rights of others to study and work without disruption.

- Demonstrators must not block corridors or entrances or use loud noise to disrupt a conference, meeting, or assembly.
- Demonstrations may not be conducted in faculty or administrative offices, classrooms, libraries, or study areas.
- Moving picket lines in University corridors are prohibited. (Protests may be registered by individuals or groups standing in a single line against a corridor wall, but corridors must be kept open at all times for the free passage of other members of the community.)
- Any student or student organization seeking to demonstrate or protest on University property or in connection with a University event must comply with University demonstration policies and procedures as outlined in the Campus Activities Student Organization Resource Guide, and all directions issued by University administrators.

*Except as provided by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996

- Please consult the Campus Activities Student Organization Resource Guide at csi.sites.northeastern.edu/ for the most up-to-date policy.

Students, faculty, or staff who violate these regulations will be subject to disciplinary action; violators also jeopardize their right to remain in the University community. Persons who are not students, faculty, or University employees are prohibited from participating in demonstrations on University property, even if invited to do so by a student, employee, or faculty member. Such persons will be considered trespassers.

Statement on Free Expression:

A foundational principle of Northeastern University is that a global, multicultural, diverse, and inclusive community is vital to learning, discovery, and innovation at the highest levels of human endeavor. As an institution of higher learning, Northeastern has a responsibility to foster a community that protects and supports free expression, welcomes open dialogue on critical issues, and maintains an inclusive educational environment where diverse views can be safely expressed and debated by community members in an atmosphere of civility and mutual respect.

Northeastern is a place for its community members to engage in open discourse on conflicting and diverse views and/or ideas, including those that others may find unwelcome, controversial, disagreeable, or even offensive. In the spirit of free expression, the university encourages professional, scholarly and respectful debate and critical thinking regarding differing views. In this way, the university enhances and increases opportunities for learning and expanding thought perspectives through experience and engagement with those whose opinions and experiences differ from our own.

This statement on free expression is neither intended to contravene Northeastern's long-standing policy regarding academic freedom, nor imply acceptance of discrimination on the basis of protected categories or other forms of communication or action that violate university policy.

Dismissal from class Students dismissed from classes for insubordination or other disciplinary reasons may not return without the approval of the appropriate University official.

E-mail Motivated by convenience, speed, cost-effectiveness, and the environmental advantages of using e-mail rather than printed communication, there is an expanding reliance on electronic communication among students, faculty, staff, and administration at Northeastern University. Because of this increasing reliance and acceptance of electronic communication, e-mail is considered an official means for communicating critical information to enrolled students, faculty, and staff. Any notices sent to a student's official University e-mail address will be deemed received by the student.

University E-mail Policy:

- University use of e-mail E-mail should be used for the communication of specific, individual messages (which may include invitations to complete surveys). General announcements should be communicated via the student portal.

All use of e-mail, including use for sensitive or confidential information, will be consistent with the Northeastern University Policy on Appropriate Use of Computer and Network Resources (policies.northeastern.edu/policy700) and with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) that protects the confidentiality of student records. E-mail shall not be the sole method for notification of any legal action.

A student's Northeastern e-mail address is available for use for one year following the student's separation or departure from Northeastern.

- Assignment of student e-mail addresses Northeastern University will assign all students an official Northeastern e-mail address and will send e-mail communications to this address. This official address is the address associated with a student's account and found in the directory of the University's e-mail system. The University will not be responsible for the handling of e-mail by outside vendors or by college/departmental servers. Students who redirect e-mail from their Northeastern e-mail account to another address are still responsible for all obligations associated with the official communication.
- Expectations regarding student use of e-mail Students are required to check their official e-mail address on a frequent and consistent basis in recognition that many communications may be time-critical. It is also the student's responsibility to maintain copies of all communications in such a way that they may be accessed at a later date.
- Educational uses of e-mail It is highly recommended that if faculty have e-mail requirements and expectations they specify these requirements in their course syllabi. Faculty will expect that students' official e-mail addresses are being accessed and, therefore, faculty may use e-mail and Canvas via the Student Hub for their courses accordingly.

Identification cards An official photo identification card will be issued to new students at their initial orientation and registration periods.

Replacements for lost cards can be obtained for a nominal fee at the Husky Card Office in Speare Hall. All students must have in their possession at all times the officially approved and properly validated photo identification card. It will be necessary to show this card as a means of identification when using the library and campus recreational facilities, at athletic contests, at student elections, at UHCS, at the Student Accounts Office, at the Office of the Registrar, to NUPD, and elsewhere around the University. All members of the community should be prepared and willing to identify themselves and their guests upon request by authorized personnel.

Media and public appearances In all personal communications to newspapers or other media, as well as personal public appearances in which students identify themselves as members of the Northeastern University community, it should be made clear that the opinions presented are a student's own and not necessarily those of the University. Students who appear on public programs as representatives of Northeastern University must be particularly careful to avoid language or presentations that could be considered in bad taste or offensive.

Safety glasses Safety glasses must be worn in all chemistry laboratories and other facilities as required.

Sales and solicitations Northeastern University is not a marketplace. Sales of material or solicitations of any kind, for example newspapers and other print mediums, insurance, food items, and all other articles, are prohibited without the express written permission of designated officials of the University. Exceptions to this policy can be made for recognized student organizations and residence hall groups. Residence hall groups should request permission to sell within their housing unit from the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life or designee. Student organizations should request permission from the Director of the Center for Student Involvement or designee. All others should apply to the NU Business Office and/or Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life or their designee. Such permission, when granted, is for designated areas within the University and is subject to the restrictions imposed by the approving officials. General solicitation, especially in such areas as classrooms, lounges, and cafeterias, is not permitted. This policy applies to student groups, University departments, and on campus vendors that may lease space, or are part of a University-sponsored program, or are otherwise contracted to the University to provide goods or services.

The University's Policy on Non-Solicitation and Sales can be found at policies.northeastern.edu/policy300/.

Smoking Northeastern University is a smoke-free campus. For more information about the policy, visit policies.northeastern.edu/policy607/.

The sale of cigarettes and other tobacco products is prohibited on campus.

Student organizations All recognized student organizations are part of the University and are bound by policies and procedures in this handbook and the Campus Activities Student Organization Resource Guide, published by the Center for Student Involvement (CSI), csi.sites.northeastern.edu/. Refer to the guide for information on policies and procedures, including information on creating and registering a student organization.

Students out of good standing with the University may have limitations imposed on their ability to represent the University in any intercollegiate activities or in any program or performance of any student organization. Students on Deferred Suspension may not hold any office or position, either by election, appointment, or petition, in any recognized student organization or group.

Student organization officers Any student wishing to hold an office must have a 2.500 overall GPA prior to being elected or appointed to that position. Members of the Student Government Association (SGA) executive board must have a 2.500 GPA to be elected and maintain their positions. Officers are expected to be and shall be held accountable for the actions of their organization, consistent with applicable policies.

Tape recorders, laptop computers, cell phones, and other transcribers or recorders Students may not use mechanical or electronic transcribing, recording, or communications devices in the classroom without the instructor's consent. Students with disabilities who need such equipment in the classroom may make arrangements through the Disability Resource Center (DRC), 20 Dodge Hall.

Textbooks Students should purchase or have in their possession the assigned textbooks, problem books, manuals, and other supplies that may be necessary in a classroom or laboratory.

The student rights, through their representatives in the Student Government Association (SGA), described in these sections arise from faculty and staff employment responsibilities and obligations to the University. Northeastern University students recognize and accept that it is the sole prerogative of the University to enforce these obligations and responsibilities and to determine whether and to what extent they are being carried out or violated in specific instances. Northeastern University students recognize and accept that their ability to effect redress of complaints arising from these rights is limited to the procedures specified in the current Undergraduate Student Handbook.

The articles shall be interpreted by the Office of the Provost in conjunction with the Office of the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, and shall be monitored by the Student Government Association. Further, should any student discover that they have been subject to any violation of the principles stated herein, the student should follow the appropriate complaint resolution procedure in the Undergraduate Student Handbook. The Student Government Association, if requested by the student, will monitor the progress of any student academic grievances.

Because the University operates on a twelve-month calendar in an urban environment, many construction, remodeling, renovation, and repair projects must take place while the University is in session, and other potential distractions from the learning process arise from the surrounding urban environment on which it is dependent but over which it exerts little or no control. Thus, though the University is committed to maintaining an appropriate learning environment for its students, Northeastern University students recognize and accept, as part of their relationship with the University, that the conditions described above may cause occasional disturbances to that environment.

For more on academic freedom, please refer to the AAUP's definition found here: <https://www.aaup.org/report/1940-statement-principles-academic-freedom-and-tenure>

This bill was drafted by the Student Senate, the Senior Vice Chancellor for Student Life, and members of the Faculty Senate. It was passed in the spring of 1992. It was then updated by the Student Body President, Vice President for Academic Affairs, and passed by the student Senate in the Fall of 2017 and Faculty Senate in the Spring of 2018 for adoption in the Undergraduate Student Handbook for the 2018-2019 Academic year.

STUDENT BILL OF ACADEMIC RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

We, the students of Northeastern University, believe that a quality education is the paramount goal of all students. USA Patriot Act

The USA Patriot Act provides law enforcement agencies access to confidential University records on students, faculty, and staff. The University must provide the requested information on being shown a warrant or court order executed under the Patriot Act. Under the provisions of this Act, the student, faculty, or staff member may not be notified of the request for and release of information. The USA Patriot Act takes priority over FERPA that is described below. All requests for information under the USA Patriot Act are handled by the Office of the General Counsel, 301 Columbus Place.

Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) for International Students and Scholars

In order to maintain lawful student status in the United States, international students must be very mindful of the rules and regulations that govern their nonimmigrant visa classification. Numerous U.S. federal mandates and regulations implementing the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) make it especially important for students in the “F” (student) and “J” (exchange visitor) categories to consult regularly with an international student advisor at the Office of Global Services (OGS) before taking any action that might impact their immigration status and educational endeavors in the United States. International students must register full-time, on time (within the appropriate registration period) during the regular academic year. In addition, international students must not begin or resume any type of employment without first obtaining proper employment authorization from the OGS. Any exceptions from full-time registration requirements must be preapproved by the OGS in accordance with specified regulations.

FERPA for Students—General Information

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law that applies to educational institutions. Under FERPA, schools must allow students who are 18 years or over or attending a postsecondary institution:

- Access to their education records
- An opportunity to seek to have the records amended (see below for this procedure)
- Some control over the disclosure of information from the records

FERPA General Guidance for Parental Disclosure

When a student turns 18 years of age or attends a postsecondary institution, the student, and not the parent, may access, seek to amend, and consent to disclosures of their education records.

If you are an undergraduate day student and you choose not to share information with your parents, Northeastern will, if asked, indicate that you have restricted access to your records.

Notification of Rights under FERPA

FERPA affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, dean, or head of the academic department (or appropriate official) written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The university official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the university official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education record that the student believes is inaccurate or misleading. Students may ask the university to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the university official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the university decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the university will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of their right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception, which permits disclosure without consent, is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interest. A school official is defined as a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit and health staff); a person or company with whom the university has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a person assisting another school official in performing their tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill their professional responsibility.
4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the university to comply with the requirements of FERPA. At Northeastern, the Office of the University Registrar, 271 Huntington Avenue, administers FERPA.

Additional Information

Additional information can be obtained at the U.S. Department of Education's website or by writing to the address above. The university's complete Policy on Student Rights Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is available at <https://policies.northeastern.edu/policy106/>.

Release of Directory Information

The primary purpose of directory information is to allow Northeastern University to confirm attendance for employers, health insurance companies, and loan agencies. Northeastern may disclose appropriately designated "directory information" without written consent, unless you have advised the university to the contrary in accordance with the procedures below. If you choose not to release directory information, all communications with all third parties and agencies will need to be done through your written request to the university or in person.

Northeastern directory information includes:

- Student name
- Home address (city, state, country only)
- Major field of study
- College
- Class year
- Enrollment status (e.g., undergraduate or graduate, full-time or part-time)
- Dates of attendance
- Degrees, honors, and awards received
- Most recent educational agency or institution attended
- Sports activity participation, showing weight/height of members of athletic teams

If Northeastern currently has permission to release data and you do not want the university to disclose directory information without your prior written consent, you must notify the university. Instructions are available at the Office of the University Registrar.

Additional Information

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY POLICY

- Northeastern University prohibits discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, color, religion, religious creed, genetics, sex, (including pregnancy-related condition), gender identity, sexual orientation, age, national origin, ancestry, ethnicity, veteran, military status or disability status in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities. In addition, Northeastern University prohibits any form of sexual harassment. Resources about the University's nondiscrimination policies and its grievance procedures are available in the OUEC, 125 Richards Hall, or online at northeastern.edu/ouec/.

Depending on the circumstances, representatives assist students by advising, mediating, investigating, or referring students to a more appropriate office.
- Northeastern University seeks to provide all students with a nondiscriminatory residential, academic, and work environment free of intimidation, coercion, and unfair treatment in all matters including admission, registration, course withdrawal, grading, classroom discussion, requests for assistance, or other conduct that may impact one's academic evaluation or performance. The University reserves the right to pursue any complaint of discrimination brought to its attention.
- Northeastern prohibits any form of retaliatory activity against any person who brings a complaint of discrimination or harassment or who cooperates in the investigation of one. The University's Policy on Equal Opportunity can be found at policies.northeastern.edu/policy107/.

- The University Police Department serves the Boston campus 24 hours a day, every day of the year, to protect life and property, and seeks to prevent and detect crime on and near the campus. University police officers have the same authority as municipal police officers and enforce both Massachusetts laws and University regulations. Regulations mandate that students show their University ID cards whenever requested to do so by any University police officer. For more information, visit northeastern.edu/nupd.
- To minimize crime and promote the safety of the Northeastern community, students are urged to take responsibility for creating and maintaining a safe and secure environment. For tips on safety around campus and in the neighborhood, pick up a safety brochure or visit the NUPD website.
- Fire egress drills in residence halls are held each semester to familiarize students with the alarm system and the evacuation routes. All building occupants must participate when a drill is held. For tips on fire safety, pick up a fire safety brochure or visit the NUPD website.
- The Personal Safety Escort Service offers a door-to-door escort from one Boston campus location to another. After receiving a call, the University police will dispatch a uniformed officer within 10-15 minutes. (If necessary, the dispatcher will advise of any expected delays). Call 617.373.2121 to request a personal safety escort on campus.

- A special nighttime off-campus safety escort, the RedEye, is provided from dusk to dawn for students who reside within two miles of the center of the Boston campus. Every night from 7pm to 6am, the service can be requested through a free mobile app called the RedEye app. In order to use the service, one must book a ride in advance using the app. It will assign each request to a particular departing van, which will drop off each student at their off-campus residence. The pick-up location of the vans is at the Snell Library Quad. Questions regarding the service can be answered 24/7 at (617) 373-8718 or go to <https://nupd.northeastern.edu/our-services/safety-escort-services/>.

Northeastern students are encouraged to download the SafeZone app as one means of communication with NUPD and/or local police services.

SafeZone is a smartphone app that any student or staff member can download and use for free. This app connects you directly to the Northeastern University Police Department should you need assistance or emergency support while on the Boston campus.
