Today's legal environment demands that attorneys be nimble, entrepreneurial, and savvy; in all of these regards, graduates of the Northeastern University School of Law excel. Our curriculum, taught by nationally recognized faculty, provides students with a superior understanding of how the law applies in real settings, a strong ethical framework, and the experience to strategically pursue their professional objectives. Our co-op program sets us apart from all other law schools—our JD students complete many hours of work in law offices, judges' chambers, corporations, nonprofit organizations, and government. As a result of their co-op experiences, Northeastern JD students are not just sitting in classes hearing about the rapid changes in the legal world—they live them.

Our community also provides a refreshing refutation of the law school stereotype as a place of ruthless competition and blind ambition. Instead, we cultivate an atmosphere that is collaborative, collegial, and supportive. Our students' eagerness to work in teams, help one another, and share their experiences reflects that ethos. Our faculty and staff are exceptionally supportive of students—not only because our small community encourages extensive student-faculty interaction but also because they share their students' passion for justice.

In addition to offering both full-time and part-time JD programs, the School of Law offers on-campus and online LL.M. programs for lawyers, a Master of Legal Studies program for nonlawyers, and a number of other programs. Our suite of LL.M. opportunities is offered for both those who hold a U.S. law degree and those who hold a first professional law degree from a law school outside of the United States.
